CHRIS BAKER – THE MANAGED REVIEW MAESTRO

With an illustrious career spanning nearly two decades, our Senior Director of Managed Review, Chris Baker exemplifies dedication, astuteness, and a relentless pursuit of excellence. An alumnus of the revered Georgetown University Law Center, he has consistently driven operational efficiencies and bolstered industry standards at every juncture of his professional journey.

From his early days as a Litigation Associate at McKenna Long & Aldridge LLP in Washington, D.C., where he expertly represented insurance companies and managed large-scale document collections, to his later role at Purpose Legal Solutions in Austin as a Senior Attorney Manager, he has consistently been at the forefront of devising and implementing standardized review workflows, ensuring top-notch quality assurance, and fostering strong inter-departmental synergy.

His pivotal role at Ramon Worthington PLLC saw him champion corporate clients in complex cases while at the Law Office of Christopher W. Baker, he showcased his acumen in diverse areas of law, securing commendable outcomes for his clients. His dedication to law has always been complemented by his sound academic grounding with a Bachelor of Arts in Spanish Literature from the University of Texas at Austin and specialized studies from the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona.

In his current role, Chris not only serves as the linchpin for Managed Review projects but also spearheads the integration of processes across multiple departments, ensuring a harmonious alignment with organizational objectives. His comprehensive role encompasses everything from standardizing and administering Managed Review discovery processes to developing professional development frameworks for the team. Leveraging competitive advantages, identifying areas for growth, and fostering stakeholder relationships are just a few of the myriad responsibilities he expertly manages.

Additionally, his legal insights have been recognized and published in esteemed publications, making significant contributions to the industry's body of knowledge.

Bar admissions in Texas, District of Columbia, and Maryland, coupled with his exemplary contributions to legal publications, make Chris an indispensable asset to our team. His unparalleled expertise, leadership skills, and commitment to fostering growth ensure that our clients always receive top-tier managed review services.
